

FAQs (Frequently Asked Questions)

Who can attend? Do I need to be on NDIS?

Insight Days are open to everyone in the community, neurodivergent young people, school leavers, NDIS participants, self-funded individuals, and those supported by community or employment service providers. You can attend as many or as few as you like – each day is a new opportunity to discover, engage, and grow.

How much is it?

Programs are charged per session or in blocks of 6 at a discounted rate. Session prices vary depending on the complexity of the day and the location of where it is

How do I book or get more information?

You can either send an enquiry directly through the contact us page of our website OR call our Employer Engagement Team on (08) 8164 6991 and ask about our Industry Insight days

Can I get my School or Employment Provider to contact you directly?

Absolutely, we work with many schools and a number of Workforce Australia & DES providers to deliver Industry insights, and we bill them directly. Ask us how your school may be able to work with our Employment Support team to obtain SACE points!

Do I need a support worker to attend with me?

Not necessarily. We provide mentor support during the day, but participants are welcome to bring their own support if preferred.

Is Transport Included?

Yes, we offer safe, tracked transport through our TWCI vehicle fleet that picks you up and drops you off at the conclusion of the day, depending on your location this is included in the price.

What do I wear?

Clean, smart casual attire with closed-in shoes for safety.

Connect with real opportunity

It's practical, it's needed, and it works!

Step inside real workplaces, meet the people who work there, broaden your horizons, and work towards a growth mindset in relation to your employment. With transport and lunch prep support included, this neuro-inclusive model ensures every detail is covered for genuine engagement. It's career exploration done differently.

This program has been hugely successful, providing neurodiverse individuals, both within the NDIS and the wider community, with families, educators & community organisations working collaboratively with us to get their people in front of employers and gain real insight into work, exploring industries they may never have considered without seeing it.

Monthly Industry Insight schedules are posted on our website and social media every month, offering a huge variety of industries to explore inc;

- ✓ Manufacturing, Production, Horticulture
- ✓ Hospitality, Retail, Childcare
- ✓ Gaming & IT
- ✓ Animal Rescue & Wildlife
- ✓ Transportation & Logistics

Many young people have landed interviews or even started work just by attending these brilliant Insight Days, asking questions, and showing genuine interest.

Interactive career exploration

specifically designed for Neurodivergent youth

In a world where job search often feels overwhelming, disconnected, disheartening, and inefficient.

We're taking a fresh, innovative approach, recognising that traditional job-seeking methods don't always work for neurodiverse individuals. Instead of the usual "find a job, start it, and hope it's a good fit" approach, which often results in huge fallouts within the first 2-4 weeks of employment. We've flipped the script!

Industry Insight Days are a bold, innovative solution designed exclusively by TWCI to give neurodivergent young people direct access to inclusive employers and local industries to explore possibilities before they waste time and energy applying for something that is not the right fit for them. Addressing very real concerns such as:

- What does that job actually do?
- Will I be working alone or with other people?
- What are the Start and Finish times?
- Where do I sit for lunch?
- Is it this loud every day?

These experiences help eliminate very real workplace concerns & anxieties, building confidence before even applying for a role.

Together we achieve more.
